

WILL CANCEL ALL CONTRACTS WITH UTMOST CAUTION

Interests of Both Capital and Labor Will Be Guarded

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Munitions contracts for the army are to be cancelled with utmost caution as to safeguard the interests of both labor and capital. All bureaus of the war department, it was learned today, are making a careful survey of the outstanding contracts and recommendations are being formulated to cover the industrial demobilization involved in the cessation of work on guns, shells and equipment.

Officials said today that thus far only one contract has been terminated, it being an order for motor truck equipment upon which work had not been started and to the cancellation of which all parties were agreeable.

The process being followed subjects any contract recommended for cancellation by the particular war department bureau involved to rigid scrutiny by the war boards before the order can be issued. Ever if the purchase and storage division of the general staff and the director of munitions approve cancellation because the material order is not deemed necessary to the military establishment, disapproval by either of the two civilian boards is sufficient to prevent cancellation.

Officials said today that wherever a large number of workers would be thrown out of employment suddenly or a manufacturing plant be seriously curtailed, cancellation clauses will not be invoked until the manufacturer has made arrangements for private contracts. Considerable reduction can be effected rapidly officials said as many contractors already have prepared for after-the-war business and need only a short time to get started on that work. In other cases where plants have been completely transposed for war orders and will virtually have to be dismantled, the task will be more complicated.

A uniform procedure, such as blanket cancellation orders, therefore seems impossible to many officials who predict that each case will continue to be treated individually.

RELIEF FOR SUFFERING MILLIONS IN RUSSIA IS A GREAT PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Relief for the suffering millions in Bolshevik-controlled central Russia is a problem which the allied and American governments have been unable to solve. One official said today that not even a method of solution had been determined upon. It is determined as practically certain that it will be impossible to get food to the 40,000,000 people in this territory this winter. With food scarce and anarchy rampant officials here fear that famine is inevitable.

In their effort to find some way to aid these people, statesmen of the allied governments are working on the conviction that the Bolsheviks are not representative of the Russian people. As long as the Bolsheviks remain in power, it is admitted that there is little probability of getting even the very necessities of life to them.

The way to Russia is thru Germany one official said and until that way is opened there is no chance of aiding Russia.

The American and allied governments have not determined upon the advisability of sending a military force into central Russia even if the situation in Germany becomes stable enough to permit the passage of troops thru that country.

It was also said that no addition to the allied and American forces operating in Siberia and northern Russia in conjunction with the loyal Russians and Czech-Slovak army is at present contemplated.

BARUCH SUGGESTS GOVERNMENT CONTROL

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Permanent direction of standardization of manufacture and conservation of materials under a definite government agency was suggested today by Chairman Baruch of the war industries board as a means of profiting from war experiences. The permanent government agency, Mr. Baruch said, would function similarly to the conservation division of the war industries board. He indicated that the department of commerce or the federal trade commission could carry out the proposal more effectively.

Properly conceived, Mr. Baruch said, a policy of industrial conservation and standardization in time of peace would save materials, money and labor and increase production. Standardization of types, he said, would lessen cost of production and consequently result in lower prices to the public.

General Petain Issues Order To French Troops

WITH THE FRENCH ARMY IN FRANCE, Tuesday, Nov. 12.—(By the Associated Press).—General Petain, the French commander-in-chief has issued the following order of the day to his troops:

To the French armies: "During the long months you have fought, history will record the tenacity and fierce energy displayed during these four years by our country which had to vanquish in order not to die."

"Tomorrow in order to better dictate peace, you are going to carry your arms as far as the Rhine. In that land of Alsace-Lorraine that is so dear to us, you will march as liberators. You will go further, all the way into Germany to occupy lands which are the necessary guarantees for just reparation."

"France has suffered in her ravaged fields and in her ruined villages. The freed provinces have had to submit to intolerable vexations and odious outrages but you are not to answer these crimes by the commission of violence which, under the spur of your resentment may seem to you legitimate."

"You are to remain under discipline and to show respect to persons and property. You will know, after having vanquished your adversary by force of arms how to impress him further by the dignity of your conduct in success or your heroism in fighting."

"I address a fond and affectionate greeting to our dead whose sacrifices gave us the victory. And I send a message of salutation full of sad affection to the fathers, mothers, to the widows and orphans of France who in these days of national joy dry their tears for a moment to acclaim the triumph of our arms. I bow my head before your magnificent flags."

"Viva la France!" "Petain."

Americans Will Take Over Metz And Strassburg

PARIS, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press).—Germany's troops began to evacuate France and Belgium on Tuesday. The Allied troops then moved forward the Americans advancing in the direction of Metz and Strassburg.

Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the Allied armies, will make solemn entries into those German fortresses on Sunday in the presence of President Poincaré and Premier Clemenceau.

The occupation of the territory on the left bank of the Rhine and the bridgeheads will not be undertaken by the Allied forces until later.

The liberation of Belgium promises to be rapidly accomplished. On the occasion of the re-entry of the Belgian sovereigns into Brussels the French government has decided to present to the queen the grand cordon of the legion of honor and to the heir apparent the chevaliers' cross and the cross of war.

In conformity with the agreement reached between Marshal Foch and the German delegates, a period of five days has been allowed to the enemy in which to hand over all the armament material stipulated in the armistice.

The French command asked the Germans for information as to where mines had been laid and was informed that some had been placed in the Ostend station and timed to explode yesterday. The German command accordingly was asked to send officers to locate the explosives.

An additional day making fifteen days in all from the date of the armistice has been granted to the enemy to evacuate Belgium, Luxembourg, Alsace and Lorraine.

Marshal Foch has directed the Germans to send officers to the king of the Belgians at Bruges, to give information regarding the German and Luxembourg railroad and canal system and the navigation of the Rhine.

The Germans today are sending an officer to China to arrange with French officers for the handing over of the arms and material which Germany has to surrender.

HURLEY AND HOOVER TO SAIL FOR EUROPE

Will Study Problems of Feeding People of Needy Countries

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Food Administrator Hoover and Chairman Hurley of the shipping board will sail Saturday on the White Star Liner Olympic for Europe to study problems connected with the inter-allied program for feeding the people of northern France, Belgium, Central Europe and the Far East.

Mr. Hoover, who, at the request of the president will organize and direct America's part in the work, will leave tomorrow for New York while Mr. Hurley left tonight. During the day they were in conference with Secretary Lansing and it was understood that diplomatic matters connected with the food program and the amount of tonnage available for transporting relief supplies were discussed. One of Mr. Hoover's first tasks when he reaches Europe will be to ascertain the most urgent need for food and reconstruction materials in northern France and Belgium. Chairman Hurley will devote most of his time to conferring with shipping officials in Great Britain and France regarding the allocation of shipping necessary for carrying out whatever program is determined upon.

At the food administration office today it was said that ships are leaving American ports and Argentina with greatly increased supplies of food for northern France and Belgium and that food for the peoples of central Europe and the near east will go forward as quickly as shipping tonnage is made available. Dr. Alonzo E. Taylor, representative of both the food administration and the war trade board is accompanying Mr. Hoover and will go to the Balkans to direct relief work there.

The United States, it was stated today, will continue to carry out its food agreements with the various neutrals.

Holland and Switzerland are said to be still badly in need of supplies while the economic agreements with Sweden, Norway, Spain and Denmark still are in force.

Baron De Cartier the Belgian minister in a statement tonight relative to action of President Wilson in placing Mr. Hoover in charge of America's contribution toward the feeding of Belgium said it would give the Belgian people "a feeling of absolute confidence."

"This evidence of America's continued solicitude," said the minister, "will be an encouragement and stimulation to my people second only to their actual liberation from German oppression."

In reviewing the situation in which Belgium finds herself at the end of the war, Mr. De Cartier said:

"It must be always borne in mind that over four million of our seven million people are destitute and today are subsisting in soup lines; that except for the garments provided thru the relief commission they have had no textiles for over four years; that the whole clock of industry has been stopped and that the Germans have carted away to Germany all the machinery which they did not destroy in Belgium. They destroyed our railways, our mines and our canals. Never before has a country been reduced to such a plight as ours today and never has a country had such friends."

PEACE CONGRESS WILL MEET IN DECEMBER

PARIS, Nov. 14.—(By the Associated Press).—The general feeling of the allied governments is that Versailles—Paris is the most convenient place to hold the peace conference and if this were decided upon it also would serve as a recognition of the paramount position of France in the war.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Reports have reached the state department that the situation in Germany and Austria-Hungary approximates a state of anarchy on account of the conduct of returning soldiers released from the fighting lines.

M'ADOO WANTS REVISIONS MADE TO REVENUE BILL

Expenditures During Present Year Less Than Estimated

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Revision of the pending revenue bill with a view of yielding $6,000,000 payable during the calendar year 1919 and not less than $1,000,000,000 the following year, was recommended by Secretary McAdoo tonight in a letter to Chairman Simmons of the senate finance committee, setting forth the treasury's financial program for the reconstruction period.

The secretary estimated that expenditures during the fiscal year ending next June 30, would be $18,000,000,000 instead of the $24,000,000,000 estimated before there were prospects of peace. He declared for continuation of the policy of loaning to the allies for a limited time during reconstruction after peace to enable them to purchase foodstuffs, raw materials and manufactured products in this country. Other recommendations were:

That income and profit taxes be payable in four equal quarterly installments on March 15, June 15, Sept. 15 and December 15.

That excess profits tax rates for payments due next year be no higher than those in the existing law.

That necessary safeguards be provided for war and excess profits taxes in the form of adequate provisions, conservative valuation of inventories and ascertainment of minimum income shall be exempted from tax to insure the taxpayer against injustice and avoidable injury.

That war and excess profits taxes be eliminated entirely for payments due in 1920 except with respect to profits on contracts negotiated during the war period.

That corporation and individual income tax rates be increased on incomes of 1919, payable in 1920.

That the basis for next year's taxes payable in 1920 be determined now.

Urges Prompt Enactment.—The secretary also urged prompt enactment of the pending bill. He estimated the revenue yield from the measure as framed by the senate finance committee at $6,300,000,000 as compared with the $8,000,000,000 provided by the bill as passed by the house which he declared "is more stringent than the changed situation will justify."

"The existing law is not satisfactory to the country nor to the treasury," he added.

Mr. McAdoo did not refer to the fifth war loan which will probably be floated next spring, but his calculations indicated that the size of this might be around $5,000,000,000 to make up the difference between the six billions of taxes plus $6,866,000,000 gathered from the fourth liberty loan and the eighteen billions of expense.

The senate finance committee tomorrow will examine Mr. McAdoo's program and will examine him in person when he appears before the committee late in the afternoon. Chairman Simmons after studying Mr. McAdoo's letter said in the main he approved of the secretary's recommendations. He added they were along the lines, he and the secretary had discussed at repeated conferences.

Expenses Run High.—After reporting that government expenses for July, August, September and October, this year, amounted to $6,635,000,000 or $1,650,000,000 a month, Mr. McAdoo in his letter said:

"There seems every reason to anticipate a large reduction in the government's expenditures during the balance of the fiscal year. How great that reduction will be it is impossible to estimate. It seems reasonable to suppose that the decrease in the government's expenditures cannot be at a very rapid rate if a wise policy of re-adjustment and transfer of activities from a war to a peace basis is followed."

"The United States will be the fortunate possessors of foodstuffs, raw materials and manufactured products of which Europe and the rest of the world are in dire need. Not all of the allies can fully pay us in gold, nor in commodities during the period of reconstruction for some of them will not so soon be able to resume normal activities; and the United States must be prepared to continue therefore to enable the governments of the allies or some of them to make purchases on credit, I shall promptly ask congress for authority to continue to establish such credits and make loans within reasonable limits to these governments for purposes growing out of the war."

"It is of the most importance that such foreign loans should be held down to a minimum and as soon as may be discontinued and that every reasonable argument

Ship Building In United States To Be Continued

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—While shipbuilding in this country is to be continued steadily the program of the shipping board, based on war needs, will be revised and designs for ships will be changed with particular reference to economical cost of operation, Chairman Hurley said today in a statement outlining the board's peace time plans.

"The continued need for building American owned tonnage is obvious," said Mr. Hurley. "Not only must we continue to supply our armies overseas and prepare to bring them home at the earliest moment compatible with safety, but Europe must be fed and supplied with the necessary materials to permit the reconstruction of devastated areas in order that both our friends and our enemies may become self-supporting."

"There is not enough ships in the world to carry on this work and to provide immediately for ordinary commerce. For that reason only a limited portion of the shipping which can be constructed by the United States in 1919 will be available for use."

"For two months the shipping board has been making a complete survey of its construction programs and contracts. Believing that an emergency war program would soon end his investigation has been with a view to replanning of ships to be constructed from this date forward. It is planned that ships will be built with special reference to suitability for special service and with particular reference to the economical cost of operation."

"It is also planned that these ships shall be built with reference to probable trade uses and trade lines to adapt them to particular uses and to increase the speed of the turn around of the ship—this because every necessary delay in loading and unloading must be eliminated."

Women of U. S. Receive Appeals From Germany

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Appeals addressed to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Miss Jane Addams of Chicago, on behalf of the women of Germany asking that the armistice terms be modified to prevent "unspeakable disaster," have been sent from the German wireless station at Nauen. They were picked up by the military intelligence radio at Haulton, Maine, and were made public tonight by the war department.

The appeal to Mrs. Wilson said the women and children of Germany have been "starving for years" and that they "will die from hunger by the millions" unless the terms of the armistice are changed so that sufficient rolling stock will be made available for moving food from the farms. It was dated at Berlin and signed by Gertrude Brauer and Alice Soloman for the National Council of Women of Germany.

The appeal to Miss Addams was from Anita Augsburg at Pos under date of yesterday. It was said that the German women forseeing entire famishment and mutiny for their country urged "their American sisters" to intercede to have the armistice terms modified.

"We are all free voters of a free republic now, greeting you heartily," the appeal said.

PLAN REUNION OF EVANGELICAL CHURCH

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Representatives of nine Protestant denominations have accepted an invitation of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America to meet in Philadelphia, December 3 to 6 to consider a proposal of the Presbyterian general assembly for "organic union of the Evangelical churches of America." It was announced here tonight. The plan, as presented for discussion calls for an international council to work out a plan for making one federal church out of all these denominations.

The denominations which will be represented at the conference are the Presbyterian church in the United States of America, Protestant Episcopal church in the United States, Reformed Church in the United States, Congregational churches, Disciples of Christ, Evangelical Synod of North America and Moravian church in America.

OFFICIALS REFUSE TO TALK ABOUT PEACE MEETING

America's Interests to Be Taken Care of By Col. House

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—In advance of the meeting of the supreme war council, soon to be held at Versailles, officials here decline to discuss the approaching peace conference or to indicate any views the government may have as to the time or place of its assembly. America's suggestions on these subjects probably will be presented to the council itself by Col. E. M. House, the government's special representative in Europe.

Much of the real work of the peace conference it is believed here already has been done by the supreme war council. As a preliminary to the meeting of the conference it will be necessary for the allied and American governments to decide to what extent and by what title the provisional governments which have seized the reins of power in Berlin and Vienna represent the peoples of their countries. This is a delicate subject and officials today confessed that they had only foggy ideas as to the actual governmental situations in these capitals.

The state department has been receiving communications thru neutral agencies from the defunct governments, but for the most part has so cautiously phrased its replies as to avoid any such recognition as might afterwards prove embarrassing. The development of the separatist movement in Austria and Germany, resulting in the uprising of so-called independent republics on the basis of former German and Austrian provinces, promises to present much difficulty in the further progress of peace negotiations. Each of these states wishes to be represented independently at the peace table and adjustment of all these delicate questions is one of the tasks devolving on the supreme war council. In some quarters today it was suggested that the supreme war council may consider at this time some of the protests which have been made by the defeated central powers against their component states against certain features of the armistice which they assert are unworkable or else calculated to create serious conditions among the distressed civilian populations.

Should the supreme war council decide that some of these terms may safely be modified to prevent such acute distress, it will strengthen the threatening evil of an era of Bolshevism in central Europe, some diplomatic observers regard it as possible that relief will be granted. In no event would any change that would jeopardize the maintenance by the allies and America of absolute military domination over the defeated foe be made.

GERMANY WILL BE FURNISHED AMPLE FOOD

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(British Wireless Service).—Sir Albert H. Stanley, president of the board of trade announced today that the first steps had been taken to relax prohibition on imports and exports.

The Daily Express is officially informed that the arrangements being made to supply the German peoples most pressing need for food will not entail shortages for the allied nations. Germany has already made known her immediate wants and the inter-allied food council will decide what supplies should be allotted, first taking into consideration the requirements of the allied and neutral peoples.

One of Germany's requests is for fish. Great Britain will be able to supply large quantities of herrings and other pickled fish without deprivation of herself. The allied wheat reserves will not be lessened by Germany's need for bread, but there is no immediate prospect of white leaves in this country.

PREPARING RECEPTION FOR ALLIES

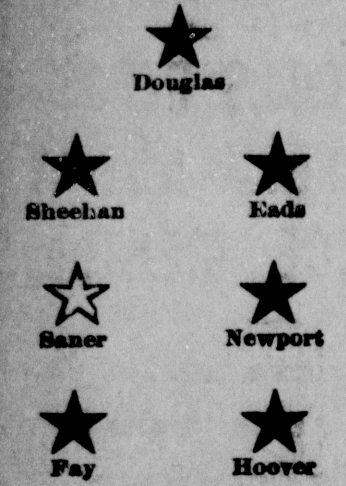

Geneva, Nov. 14.—Receptions on a huge scale are being prepared for the Allied troops under the auspices of the German officials. There also is joy in the Rhine towns because of cessation of Allied air raids.

A mill in the southern part of the state has just completed the installation of equipment for the making of rice flour and along comes the order removing all restrictions from the use of wheat. Householders have conducted so many baking experiments with rice flour, only a part of them satisfactory, that the rice product is not apt to replace wheat in any large degree, now that restrictions are no more.

S. A. T. C. WORK TO CONTINUE.

Members of the Student Army Training corps were very much interested in the statement made yesterday by Mr. Cooley, government military inspector. He said that the government contracted with colleges and universities to operate training units until next July and that the government is not in the habit of breaking contracts. This will come as a welcome message to members of the unit who naturally have felt very much in doubt as to their status since the signing of the armistice and the certainty of peace.

OBJECTIONS REMOVED.

Those who oppose the good roads bond issue because of their fear that some of the work would be done before the war was over have had their objections removed. As a matter of fact, the approval of the bond issue and the making it possible to provide such a large amount of construction work will aid Illinois quite materially in an industrially way in the transition from war to peace. For the most part these who opposed the good roads project on a war basis were not very sincere, for there was ample assurance from Gov. Lowden that none of the work would be undertaken until after the war, and an assurance from the governor should satisfy any Illinoisan.

MILITARY TRAINING.

One of the early struggles thru which members of congress will go will relate to universal military training. That is very likely to be an outgrowth of this war. The advocates of military training have increased vastly in numbers in the past three years. All that remains for the adoption of military training is to prove that such adoption means preparation against war rather than preparation for it.

A REAL THANKSGIVING DAY.

President Wilson has received numerous petitions to designate an early holiday in celebration of peace day. This might readily be combined this year with Thanksgiving day, which is so near at hand. Whether or not there is an official union of these days, Thanksgiving in 1918 promises to have the spirit of the original day, with the added emphasis that millions of population gives by comparison with the thousands of early colonists. This year certainly the people will express their thanks for the "manifest blessings" and will refer not so much to material things as to the peace and happiness which has come to so many American homes because the war, with its bleeding and dangers, has come to an end. The churches will have larger and more devout audiences this Thanksgiving day than has been true for many a year.

LET THE KAISER LIVE.

The Springfield News-Record prints several columns of opinions from Sangamon county citizens as to what disposition should be made of the kaiser. These opinions vary from having him chained in a cage to returning him to Germany for trial by the courts. Another suggestion was that his fate be left in the hands of the women of Belgium. The consensus of opinion in Springfield and elsewhere seems to be that in the name of justice the kaiser should be brought to trial and made to answer in the court of nations for his crimes against humanity. And in thinking of his punishment it seems much better that he should live and have years of mental anguish instead of being permitted to escape the pangs of memory by the infliction of capital punishment.

ALMOST BEYOND COMPREHENSION.

The questions relating to peace are so complex—so involved—that one who attempts to study them is almost mentally overwhelmed. "No one mind can grasp all the ramifications of this great question," said a Jacksonville man yesterday, and a little thought indicates how true this statement is. Some of the effects of the peace program are purely speculative while others are based upon international law, unwritten law and the social changes that this war has brought. When we think of peace as related only to ourselves the vision is narrow indeed, for in fact the settlement of war questions affects the whole world and in the final decisions the rights and the future of all peoples must be taken into consideration.

Rippling Rhyme By Walt Mason

The influenza, labeled Spanish, came and beat me to my knees; seven doctors couldn't banish from my form that punk disease; for it's not among the quitters; vainly doctors pour their bitters into ailing human critters, they just sneeze and swear and sneeze. Said my doctor, "I have tackled every sort of ill there is; I have cured up people shackled by the gout and rheumatiz; with the itch and bumps I've battled, and a-y triumphs have been rattled, but this R. S. has not. Whizz!" I am burning, I am freezing in my little truckle bed; I am cussing, I am sneezing, with a poultice on my head; and the doctors and the nurses say the patient growing worse is, and they hint around of hearsees, and of folks who should be lead. Doom has often held the cleaver pretty near my swanlike neck; I have had the chills and fever till my system was a wreck; I have had the yaller janders, foot and mouth diseases and glanders, and a plague they brought from Flanders on an old windjammer's deck. But this measly influenza has all the other ills outclassed; it has put me in a frenzy, like a soldier who's been gassed, if the villainous inventor this my lodge of pain should enter I would use the voice of Stentor till he had been roundly sassd. May the influenza vanish! Of all ailments it's the worst; but I don't believe it's Spanish—haven't thought so from the first; on my coat of arms I've a griffin, I've had leisure to determine that the blamed disease is German, which is why it is accurst.

After Your Baby Is Born

Think Now About the Time to Come Afterwards.

When you hold in your arms your tiny new infant, be sure that you can feel that before its arrival you did all in your power to give it a happy pre-natal influence.

Scientists say that the thoughts and feelings of the expectant mother greatly affect the health and disposition of the future child.

Over half a century thousands of women who have used the time-honored remedy, Mother's Friend, say that they entirely escaped nausea, nervousness and that peculiar distressing feeling so usual where nature is unaided. They thus preserved a wonderfully bright and happy disposition which reflects so markedly upon the unborn child.

By the regular use of Mother's Friend the muscles are made and kept soft and elastic, readily yield to nature's demand for expansion without the usual wrenching strain. The nerves are not drawn upon, and as a consequence the expectant mother is calm and serene and the nights are not disturbed with nervous twitches and the crisis is one of joy and happiness.

Write the Bradford Regulator Company, Dept. K, Lancaster, Bldg. Atlanta, Georgia, or their Motherhood Book, of value to every woman, and give a bottle of Mother's Friend to your druggist and begin a treatment that will insure real results.

A CHILD'S TONGUE SHOWS IF LIVER OR BOWELS ARE ACTIVE

If Cross, Feverish, Sick, Bilious, Give Fruit Laxative At Once.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without gripping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue. Mother! if coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleanser" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today save a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—Adv.

LITERBERRY
Master Eugene Young, harnessing his spotted pony to his ponybuggy Tuesday morning, and taking with him, Master Wiley, and Miss Ada Scribner, drove to Cass county, to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Roach and spent the day, they reported, a splendid good time, and a swell dinner with all the trimmings.

We were on the road yesterday and passing the beautiful home of P. C. Henderson, "Shady Oaks," we noticed that the persimmon crop was ready for picking and we stopped for our share. Mr. Henderson climbed the tree and shook off a great plenty, and they were fine. We also saw Mrs. Elmer Henderson (Maud) who is wonderfully cheered up over the "peace news." Also Miss Hernetia Hatches, granddaughter of P. C. She was helping Grandpa drag the road.

It is reported "the flu" is at the Willis home in South Litterberry and at the Strube home north of town a few miles.

Mrs. J. M. Litter has received word that her brother Taylor Henderson is at the Passavant hospital, where he is taking treatment for a very sore eye. The eye has been taken out and Mr. Henderson is doing very well.

The Ladies Aid of the Baptist church held a call meeting Tuesday afternoon at the church, and made arrangements for serving lunch at the Dave Henderson sale next Tuesday.

Mrs. McFarland is visiting friends in handlerville.

Mrs. J. A. Litter sent a fine sample of apples to our office today. These apples were picked one year ago last October and are keeping fine. We are sorry we can't name the variety. Mr. Litter says he will pick this apples every other year hereafter.

J. A. Litter and Earl Underbrink are using their new furnaces and find a big improvement in the mode of heating their homes over the old way.

KENNETH GUTHRIE WOUNDED IN ACTION

Jacksonville Boy Receives Wounds in France—Father Received Word Wednesday Evening—Was Member of Radio Corps.

Word was received by James W. Guthrie Wednesday evening that his son Kenneth W. Guthrie had been wounded in action in France. The date of the battle in which the casualty occurred is not known.

The only news contained in the message was that the young man had received an injury to the left thigh and the calf of the right leg. Mr. Guthrie immediately wired to Washington in an effort to obtain further particulars.

Kenneth Guthrie enlisted in the navy in February 1918 and was assigned to duty at Great Lakes. He proved so adept in mechanics that he was transferred to the engineers corps and was an electrician in the radio corps when he received his wounds.

Young Guthrie recently wrote an interesting letter to his parents telling of his experiences in France, and of his impressions of Paris and other French cities.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Never before in history has there been as good a time as at the present to buy land as an investment. With the war over, business will get on a solid basis. The United States will have to replenish the devastated countries, which is going to take a long time; we have the ships to do our exporting, we have the materials, we have the provisions and the men to put it there. Prices on farm products are bound to be high and land will be higher. That land is a safe investment is proven by large capitalists making inquiries, the last few days, with the prospect of buying large tracts of land. I have farms of all sizes and kinds. Come and see what I have to offer. Also, city property of all kinds, and money to loan.

Last night the machine was under the care of Charles Jackson, serving as a deputy sheriff. He was on watch all thru the night and any would-be marauder had not the slightest chance of wrong doing.

The Period Of Reconstruction

Now is the time as never before that all humanity is looking to the future and wondering what it will bring forth. From the smallest producer to the greatest manufacturer, from the smallest consumer to the greatest merchant prince, we all are interested in our own personal needs as well as in the needs of all humanity, in this great reconstruction period after the war.

After the boys come shouting home, and we extend to them the glad hand of welcome, then we must give them a place by our side; then Capital will seek the channels of trade where it will be the most profitable, ever governed by the fly-wheel of safety and confidence.

The great factories will turn from the needs of war to the replenishing of our depleted stocks and that will be a great task for this war has been different from any other war in that the world has been at war and there are no big supplies to crush the belligerents as has been the case in other wars and while the depleted stocks are being replenished the people must be fed; and this all means that the products of the farm will be in demand for years.

WAR WORK FUND PAST HALF WAY MARK

CANVASSERS URGED TO REDOUBLE EFFORTS

Interesting Story of Life at War Front Told by Returned Canadian Worker at Luncheon—Organizations are Helping With Contributions.

The sum total of subscriptions in the United War Work campaign is now about $42,000 which means that approximately 50 per cent of the amount desired has been raised. The total subscriptions in Jacksonville amount to $15,640, and in the precincts outside of Jacksonville $20,707.26.

These two sums do not include the subscriptions made by the colleges and it is the latter which make up the general total of approximately $42,000. It is apparent, however, at a glance that some Herculean labor must be performed by the campaign organization during the succeeding days of the campaign. It is the war time record of Morgan county which gives inspiration for the belief that in this campaign the people will not fail.

Urges Larger Subscriptions
Dr. Rammekamp as general campaign chairman and Dr. Barker, in charge of the country precincts, both urged upon the workers and the people that the subscriptions must be larger if the desired total is reached by next Monday, the closing day of the campaign. As previously noted, almost every person solicited contributes something, tho in many instances the amounts have not been equal to expectations. So far only one case of unpatriotic and unbecoming conduct has been reported from a man who was solicited and that case has been referred to the "strong arm" committee and from details available the case is one which urgently demands that this unpatriotic citizen be promptly called to time.

At the luncheon yesterday the invocation was by Rev. A. A. Todd and after the luncheon had been served reports were given by the various ward captains.

The subscriptions as announced for the wards were as follows:

First ward: John Perry, Capt. $1219

Second ward: F. J. Waddell, Capt. 1283

Third ward: J. W. Merrigan, Capt. 689

Fourth ward: T. A. Chapin, Capt. 2092

Total $5282

These subscriptions, together with those previously reported, for the city of Jacksonville proper, make a total of $15,640. A. C. Metcalf made the report from the county precincts in the absence of Dr. Barker. The figures were as previously indicated. The record of the county last night appears elsewhere in this issue.

Organization Reports.
When Chairman Rammekamp asked for reports from organizations, Miller Weir, president of the Jacksonville Women's Club, reported by authority of the club a subscription of $100 toward the United War Work fund.

Supt. Woolston of the Blind, reported subscriptions from that institution totaling $581.44. Of his sum $40 was given by the pupils, who were not solicited because for the most part their circumstances do not permit their giving.

Mr. Hopkins, principal of the high school, made a statement in behalf of the Victory Boys' organization. As previously explained this work was a little late in starting and various difficulties have been presented, particularly because the schools are not in session. However, Mr. Hopkins said yesterday that an effort is being made now to reach every boy in the county between the ages of 12 and 20 years. He was able to report subscriptions of $182.50. Miss Agnes Paxton made a report for the Victory Girls in Jacksonville, showing subscriptions to the amount of $159.

G. C. Claybaugh, principal of Brown's Business college, reported $200 subscribed by students, with money still coming in.

An Unpatriotic Response
Dr. Rammekamp said he very much liked the advice given by Dr. Barker on the day previous for all workers to keep their tempers but said it was hard to do in a few instances. He reported the use of one second ward man who was upstairs when a solicitor called at his house. The card was sent back and he returned it with his written message: "The war is over. Take your card and get out as quickly as you can." The chairman said he would entertain a motion for the appointment of a strong arm committee to take charge of such cases and the motion was made by W. G. Goebel and received several seconds. The committee rightly feels that such a message as the one recorded above is exceedingly impertinent, in addition to being disloyal, as the present movement for subscriptions is advised, authorized and aided by the U. S. government.

The chairman said he had great pleasure in presenting Edward S. Cooley formerly superintendent of Chicago schools, who was in Jacksonville in his capacity as a government inspector, having come to visit the students' army training corps unit at Illinois college. The chairman said Mr. Cooley had not come to make an address but that he chairman would be present to the assembled company if he did not ask the distinguished visitor to at least say a few words. Mr. Cooley expressed his pleasure at seeing so large a company gathered to finish up the war work. He said that the great war had been fought between domination and co-operation. He said that Germany had been so well organized in the beginning, and the spirit of domination so entrenched that the ideas of the central powers seemed to be about to succeed. Then the rest of the world, by a great co-operative effort, showed the advantage of right over might and so today truth and liberty reign.

Relief Work Must Continue

"I can't see how any person with vision or loyalty can figure out that we can now stop in our tracks, say the war is over and that the soldiers can take care of themselves. The government entered into a contract with the colleges and universities of the country, to be effective until July 1, 1919, and there is no disposition on the part of the government to abrogate these contracts. So the work in which you are engaged must go on and if we are to stop now the world will not be safe for democracy. It will be two years, at least, before conditions are so certainly established in Europe that all our troops can be withdrawn and until that time there is certainly something for us to do along the lines of activity about which this campaign is centered."

The chairman then expressed his pleasure in introducing Mrs. Clarence B. Fleming, who returned only five months from the western front, where with other American women she has engaged in Y. M. C. A. work. Mrs. Fleming has had personal experiences with the soldiers which she emphasized as pointing out how necessary now it is for the war work to continue at the huts and canteens. She said that when with associates she arrived in New York City Oct. 4, that one of the first words they heard was that the liberty loan need not be put over because the war was finished and now the same argument is being advanced by some people with reference to the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus and other war activities. The speaker laid special stress upon the condition which has been referred to before several times in this campaign, that the boys in the army during the period of relaxation which is now coming especially need the environment which can only be furnished thru the various war agencies.

Danger Period for Soldiers.
Mrs. Fleming said that up to this time the soldiers have had the strong incentive of beating the Kaiser. They thought as they looked forward to that contest that they must keep themselves fit and in the best of strength and health. Now that time is gone and the great danger is a slumping off and a certain carelessness on the part of the soldiers which will lead them along the paths that are dangerous. Mrs. Fleming described in interesting detail some of her experiences at the canteen where she was located 16 miles from the Swiss border. She told of the Christmas observance there, the singing of carols, the big trees, the soldiers themselves planned for the French children and then the tree that the canteen workers gave to the soldiers.

Many other interesting bits of testimony were given to prove how surely the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus and other war agencies give to the soldiers the only touch of home they have. The ministrations that come thru this service have in the past relieved the tension of mind and body and now they will offer the companionship and influences which are so sorely needed. The activities of the organizations outside the huts and canteens were described showing how well the various committees and organizations have planned for athletic activities and for various events to please and entertain the army men.

DEATHS

Crawford.

Lewis Crawford died at his home in Beardstown Thursday morning of influenza followed by pneumonia. Mr. Crawford lived in this city until a few weeks ago when he went to Beardstown to make his home. He was married five years ago to Miss Minnie Elliott, of Hersham. While in this city he was employed at Priest's Garage. Mr. Crawford is survived by his wife and one small son Charles. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at Mt. Sterling.

Beard.

Mrs. George Barnhart of 1600 South Main street received word yesterday of the death of her cousin, James Beard, which occurred at his home in Mowqua. Death resulted from heart trouble. The deceased was 54 years of age. He had been in poor health for some time. Mr. Beard was well known here where he had visited frequently. He is survived by his widow.

Philippi.

Mrs. Robert Kuechler has received a telegram from her brother, E. H. Philippi of Ottawa, Kans., announcing the death of his son, Norton Philippi at Tampico, Texas. The deceased, who was twenty-six years of age, died as the result of pneumonia. He was quite well known in this city as he was a member of the household of his aunt, Mrs. R. H. Kuechler, from the days of childhood until he was sixteen years of age. Because of the death of his mother while he was a baby he was cared for by his aunt and had the same affection and attention that was given to her own children. He attended the public schools of Jacksonville and was a general favorite with his associates. About ten years ago he went to Tampico and subsequently entered the employ of the British Oil Co. He was holding a position of large responsibility with this corporation at the time of his death.

He leaves his wife and one daughter four months of age, together with his father, E. H. Philippi of Ottawa, Kans.; one brother, Julius, now in Brazil. One brother, Robert, preceded him in death a year ago last February.

Mrs. Kuechler has not received the full details of the young man's untimely death.

Bellatti.

Hazel Brown Bellatti, wife of Walter Bellatti, passed into the other room" at midnight, Nov. 13, 1918. Her devoted parents and husband were at her side, and knowing her husband had been ill, her face shone when she read ize that he was present. "To gild refined gold, to paint the lily, To throw perfume on the violet, is wasteful and ridiculous excess."

To do justice in words to the character and charms of the beautiful and beloved wife and mother, is impossible. Her amiability, equable temperament, and the thoughtfulness for others were united with strength of character, as she was decided in all her convictions of right.

The light and joy of the happy household, reigning as queen so short a time, she has left her impress, by her firm and tender guidance, on the little boy three years old, before the baby brother came to share the love of the parents.

Fond of music, she chose the violin as her instrument; but capable and efficient in many ways, her home was the centre and supreme interest of her life.

Notwithstanding the radiance she shed over the loved ones there, her fingers skilled in dainty needlework, were never too busy to help with Red Cross work, or "to lend a hand" where others needed help.

'Tis the Divinity that stirs within us; 'Tis heaven itself that points out an hereafter. And intimates eternity to man. "God calls our loved ones, but we lose not wholly. What He hath given; They live on earth, in thought and deed as truly.

As in His heaven." Her husband, two children, her parents, a brother and sister remain.

The funeral, strictly private, will be held at the residence of Walter Bellatti, West College avenue, at 11 a. m. Saturday, Nov. 16.

It Has Been Said About Patriotism In Clothes

A new spirit has been fused into American manhood. Our great role in the fight for freedom is rehabilitating those old-fashioned American virtues which ease and prosperity has caused us to forget. Our new responsibilities are giving us a broader vision and a quickened point of view.

This does not mean that we must dispense with the finer things of life, but it does mean that we must learn to discriminate between the superlative and the superfluous—between the things that count and the things that merely cost. It means we are no longer a nation of spenders but a nation of buyers.

Buying wisely is true economy. Irreproachable quality and workmanship is true economy. Wehl-made clothing is true economy. We invite you to call.

MAY APPOINT NEW COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Wilson has under consideration the appointment of a reconstruction commission to develop a comprehensive program for the nation's conversion from a war to a peace basis. The commission would be advisory rather than executive in functions and the plan developed and coordinated by it would be carried out by existing government departments and agencies. As now considered the commission would be representative of commercial, industrial, labor, agricultural and social interests its membership would be small and it would deal with all phases of the great problem of easing the country from war to peace.

The president is understood to be distinctly opposed to the suggested plan of having a congressional committee prepare a reconstruction program. He is said to prefer men who can give their entire time to the work, and who have made special strides of economic and social problems.

How to shut off further war production without closing plants throwing men out of work and causing financial strain, is the most immediate reconstruction problems facing the government. Government authorities have charge of the placing of war contracts are considering a plan for diverting raw materials from war industries as fast as these curtail their activities to other industries where they can be used at once for reconstruction needs. War orders will not be cancelled in a wholesale way until such a plan is developed, it is believed.

KING GEORGE THANKS AMERICA

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(British Wireless Service)—King George on the signing of the armistice sent a message of congratulation to President Wilson and thanks to the people of the United States for their aid in the war. President Wilson replied expressing warm appreciation.

The king's message follows: "At this moment of universal gladness I send you, Mr. President, and the people of your great republic a message of congratulation and deep thanks in my own name and that of the people of this empire. It is indeed a matter of solemn thanksgiving that the peoples of our two countries akin in spirit as in speech should today be united in this greatest of democratic achievements. I thank you and the people of the United States for the high and noble part which you have played in this glorious chapter of history and freedom."

President Wilson's cablegram to King George follows:

"Your generous and gracious message is most warmly appreciated and you may rest assured that our hearts on this side of the Atlantic are the more completely filled with joy and satisfaction because we know the great partnership of interests and of sentiments to which we belong. 'We are happy to be associated in this time of triumph with the government and people upon whom we are so sure we can count for co-operation in the delicate and difficult tasks which remain to be performed in order that the high purposes of the war may be realized and established in the reign of equitable justice and lasting peace.'"

NAVY HEADS EXCHANGE MESSAGES

LONDON, Nov. 14.—(British Wireless Service)—Messages of felicitation have been exchanged between Josephus Daniels, secretary of the American navy and Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the British admiralty. The message of Mr. Daniels said:

"My hearty congratulations. This is the greatest in 2,000 years of history. All of the 500,000 men in the American navy send greetings to you and your great navy. One of the things for which we are happiest is the two English-speaking navies have co-operated to achieve the glorious result."

Sir Eric Geddes replied to Mr. Daniels, as follows: "I thank you on behalf of the British navy for your very cordial message of greetings. The friendship between the two English-speaking navies which the war has brought about is one of the lasting benefits which these terrible years have given us and the co-operation with the United States navy will never be forgotten by the royal navy."

WILL BE PERMITTED TO RETURN TO CIVIL LIFE

Washington, Nov. 14.—Student officers now in training at the army central training camps probably will be permitted to return to civil life immediately if they so desire, Secretary Baker indicated today. No definite decision has been reached, Mr. Baker said, but he is inclined not to hold men at the training camps against their will. The camps themselves probably will be continued until the present classes have been graduated. At the expiration of that period those who completed the course will be tendered commissions in the officers' reserve corps.

ACTS OF ANARCHY CEASE

Berne, Nov. 14.—Wolff Bureau despatches from Berlin declare that order appears to rule everywhere in Germany and that acts of anarchy have ceased. The majorities and minorities have divided the authority between them, but the minorities have been relegated to second place, it appears. The majorities are charged with preparing the organization of a German republic. Explosion from Berne of a Bolshevik diplomatic mission was carried out in the presence of an inquisitive crowd. The automobiles containing the members of the mission were escorted on way by infantry detachments in motor trucks.

POSTPONE STRIKE

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—The strike of more than 15,000 telegraphers employed on the railroads of the southeast, which had been ordered for eight o'clock tomorrow morning was postponed to tonight by officials of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. Announcement that advice from Washington "warranted a postponement" was made by O. D. Gorman, chairman of the general committee of the southeastern district of the order.

Union officials said the men will await the decision of Director General McAdoo on their request for a wage increase.

MOTHER FALLS UNCONSCIOUS

"My mother, who is 69 years old, has been troubled with her liver for 35 years. Doctors said she had gall stones. Several times she fell unconscious because of these attacks. Eight months ago, I noticed an advertisement of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy in the Toledo Blade and purchased a bottle, which did her a great amount of good. She continued the treatment and has felt entirely well since. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by Coover and Shreve's East Side Drug Store and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

THE DAY OF GLORY HAS ARRIVED

PARIS, Tuesday, Nov. 12.—"The day of glory has arrived." A line from the Marseillaise, is the text of editorial comment in the morning newspapers. Former Premier Viviani, in the Petit Journal says:

"France during four years has showed an example unique in the annals of the human race. Her calm has been magnificent. Who could have expected the apparent impassiveness of a nation known for the spontaneity of its enthusiasm. The people of France knew from the first that on the war was staked the end of the world of the teutons or the end of the Latin world."

"Today," says the Matin "the civilized world gives itself up unrestrainedly to superhuman joy at the triumph over the forces of barbarism. Tomorrow we must get to work and build a lasting edifice of a free and just humanity."

WITH THE COLORS

From Leonard I. Wood

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wood are in receipt of a letter from their son, Leonard I. Wood, stationed at the aviation field, Camp Grantham, England. The young man was first sent to Kelly field, San Antonio, Tex., then to Waco, then to Charlotte, N. Carolina and finally to Garden City, N. Y., from whence he embarked for England. His letter follows:

I'll write you a few lines to let you know I am still in England. I am O. K. and the climate here is fine. The scenery here is great. I have seen several castles and cathedrals. I saw one of the largest and oldest cathedrals in Europe.

I went to London Friday afternoon and returned Monday. A sergeant and I went together. We surely had a good time and took in all we could for the short time we had. We stayed in the largest hotel in England, Imperial. Sunday afternoon we hired a boat and rode up the Thames river which is in the suburbs of London.

They have tram cars to take you over the city. Some of them run on tracks and some as a bus. They are all double decks.

Some of the noted parts we visited were "The Strand," "Trafalgar Square," "Piccadilly Circus," "Hyde Park," "monuments," the "House of Parliament," and many other places. There are Y. M. C. A.'s all over London and we had some very interesting chats with some of the boys there on leave from the front. I guess they've been having some pretty tough fights. They all speak well of the way the Yanks are fighting. I also went to Leicester which is 50 miles from our camp. It has a population of 100,000. We rode on two different "trams." It only costs a soldier ½ penny to ride, one cent in our money. It costs a civilian one penny. There are some things in this country that are certainly cheap, hair cuts and shaves, and "tram" fares. Most all of the conductors and barbers are women and they sure make good barbers.

We surely have plenty to eat. For supper tonight, we had beans seasoned with good pork, celery, apple cobbler, bread, butter and coffee. For breakfast we had oatmeal, hash, brown potatoes, bread, butter and coffee. For dinner we had mutton chops, mashed potatoes, gravy, tapioca pudding with custard, bread, butter and coffee, so you see we are not starving.

I am enclosing a piece of poetry written by an old Englishman that owns a cafe up town (Grant-ham). It is especially good. It shows the attitude that the people have in regard to America's entering the war.

Hoping to find you all well in every way, I remain.

Sincerely,

Leonard.
Sons of the U. S. A.
From across the broad Atlantic,
Comes a noble race of men:
Subjects of that Great Republic
Founded by George Washington.

Loath they were to wage this warfare,
Hard they tried to keep the peace;
But the Huns barbaric actions
Did their righteous wrath increase.

They stood up for Truth and Justice,
For the lesser nations' right;
For the women and the children.

WEAKNESS REMAINS LONG AFTER

Influenza

Reports Show That Strength
Energy and Ambition Return
Very Slowly to Grippe Patients.

After an attack of influenza, doctors advise that nature be assisted in its building-up process by the use of a good tonic—one that will not only put strength and endurance into the body, but will also help to build up and strengthen the run-down cells of the brain.

One of the most highly recommended remedies to put energy into both body and brain is Bio-feren—your physician knows the formula—it is printed below.

There's iron in Bio-feren—the kind of iron that makes red blood corpuscles and creates vigor.

There is lecithin also; probably the best brain invigorator known to science. Then there is good old reliable gentian, that brings back your lagging appetite.

There are other ingredients that help to promote good health, as you can see by reading this formula, not forgetting kolo, that great agent that puts the power of endurance into weak people.

Taken altogether Bio-feren is a splendid active tonic that will greatly help any weak, run-down person to regain normal strength, energy, ambition and vigor.

Bio-feren is sold by all reliable druggists and is inexpensive. For weakness after influenza patients are advised to take two tablets after each meal and one at bed time—seven a day, until health, strength and vigor are fully restored.

It will not fail to help you and if for any reason you are dissatisfied with results your druggist is authorized to return your money upon request—without any red tape of any kind.

Note to physicians: There is no secret about the formula of Bio-feren, it is printed on every package. Here it is: Lecithin; Calcium Glycero-phosphate; Iron Peptonate; Manganese Peptonate; Ext. Nux. Vomica; Powdered Gentian; Phenolphthalein; Oleosin; Capsicum; Kolo.

Tyrannized by German might.

Now they bear their Honoured Ensign,

Side by side with that of ours;

Going forward into battle,

To assail the German powers.

They have drawn their sword for freedom;

They will never turn again;

Till they issue forth as victors,

And the God of Greed is slain.

They all left their homes and country,

When the call to duty came;

Heedless of what lay before them,

Anxious but to "Play the Game."

So the manhood of that nation,

Lands upon our shores today

Free-born sons of that vast empire,

Great and mighty U. S. A!

We hold out the hand of friendship

To those lads from o'er the sea;

Giving them a Loyal welcome

In whatever place they be.

For they speak our English language,

In their veins run English blood,

So the union of our nations,

Will be for the peoples' good.

It will bring us close together;

Binding us with cords so strong,

That the friendship now established,

Will increase as time runs on.

We can see a silver lining

To the cloud that looks so black;

And we see a joyous welcome

For the boys when they go back.

So, when last the foe is vanquished,

And the peace once more restored;

For the Victory of our Armies,

We together—thank the Lord.

HEALTH INSURANCE FAILS

California Votes Against Proposed Compulsory Law.

(Special to the Christian Science Monitor.)

San Francisco, Cal.—The most notable result of the California election, outside of congressional and gubernatorial contests and the election of a state legislature pledged to ratification of the federal prohibition amendment, was the probable defeat of the state-wide bone dry measure and also the anti-saloon and partial prohibition measure. It had been thought that the latter measure would carry, but the indications are that it will be beaten more decisively than the bone dry measure.

The total prohibition measure was put on the ballot against the almost unanimous protest of the dry forces of the state, who wished to concentrate all their energy on the election of a Governor, Lieutenant-Governor, and a legislature pledged to ratification of the federal amendment.

The compulsory health insurance amendment, for which a strong fight was made by the State Social Insurance Commission, was decisively beaten, according to present indications.

The San Francisco charter amendment to radically reorganize the school system to allow an appointive board of education and superintendent, was defeated.

Opponents of the measure in California also called attention to the German origin and alleged Prussian nature of the measure, stating that the editorial utterance of Chester H. Rowell, chairman of the Social Insurance Commission and the leading advocate of the plan, show him to be thoroughly imbued with German ideas and methods on many subjects. A statement opposing the measure signed by 200 leading California physicians said: "Frequent doctors' strikes in Germany, which have been regularly and officially suppressed, speak volumes of the medical maladministration that surrounds compulsory methods of health insurance. Even imperial methods of paternal and German doctors accustomed to the military government are results under a compulsion that invades the rights of patient and physician."

Having anticipated a big demand for ladies' furs, placing large orders early. FRANK BYRNS is now quoting most reasonable prices on very attractive styles.

"FLAG ETIQUETTE" FOR ALL TIMES AND PLACES

Proper Respect for the National Ensign Calls for Observance of Certain Definite Rules.

In these days when every household should have a flag, and should fly it upon every occasion offered, its correct use should be known to all. The following, from the National Geographic Magazine, tells the proper usage succinctly:

In raising the flag it should never be rolled up and hoisted to the top of the staff before unfurling. Instead, the fly should be free during the act of hoisting, which should be done quickly. It should be taken in slowly and with dignity. It should not be allowed to touch the ground on shore nor should it be permitted to trail in the dust. It should not be hung where it can be contaminated or soiled easily, or draped over chairs or benches for seating purposes, and no object or emblem of any kind should be placed upon it or above it.

The flag should not be festooned over doorways or arches. Always let the flag hang straight. Do not tie it in a bow knot. Where colors are desired for decorative purposes, use red, white and blue bunting.

The flag should not be hoisted upside down, other than as a signal of distress at sea.

International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of any other with which it is at peace. When the flags of two or more nations are displayed, they should be on separate staffs or on separate halves of equal size and on the same level.

The flag should never be raised or lowered by any mechanical appliance.

When the national colors are passing on parade or in review, the spectator should, if walking, halt, and if sitting, arise and stand at attention and uncover.

When flags are used in unveiling a statue or monument they should not be allowed to fall to the ground, but should be carried aloft to wave about, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony.

Where the national flag is displayed with State or other flags, it should be given the place of honor on the right. Its use should be confined as much as possible to its display upon the staff. Where used as a banner, the union should fly to the north in streets running east and west, and to the east in streets running north and south.

Observance of "flag etiquette" shows respect for the country which the flag symbolizes.

The records of the health ward's office yesterday showed 40 new cases of influenza. This was not quite as bad as the record of the day before, but the total was twice as many as on most of the days preceding. SOLDIER WRITES ABOUT WAR NEED

Lieut. Phalen Emphasizes Thought That Activities Should be Supported in Present Campaign.

Lieut. W. H. Phalen, on duty at Camp Greenleaf, Ga., has written the Jacksonville Journal about the United War Work campaign: Camp Greenleaf, Chickamauga, Ga., November 11, 1918. Jacksonville Journal, Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Journal:

In view of the fact that today is the opening of the "United War Work" campaign, our commandant has suggested that each member of this command write a letter to his home paper, and ask that it be published, that all at home may know first hand the very important work that has been done, and yet remains to be done by these various organizations.

Though official announcement has been made that the armistice between Germany and the Allied forces has been signed, thereby ending hostilities between the Central powers and the Allied governments, it is probably considered by the majority of the people that this is the end of the war and that the immediate disbanding of the armies of the United States, including the forces in camps, will be consummated at once.

This is a very erroneous opinion; the war is not over, and, though peace will undoubtedly be consummated in the next few months, still the work before our army is great. The policing of occupied territories, the putting down of disorders all over the world, the reconstruction of nations that have suffered most during these past frightful years will occupy the forces of our government for many months to come, and on account of the weakened condition of our allies, the army of the United States, will be called upon to do the most of this work.

And I therefore emphasize the importance of the people at home continuing the support of these various organizations, who have done a most wonderful work, something a person must be in contact with them to appreciate. So while our boys are doing these very arduous post war duties, which are rather unexciting, but nevertheless important in nature, these war charities must have the financial and hearty cooperation of home folks, in order that the very great good may be continued. So I ask that you give freely, especially now that the final goal has nearly been reached.

Sincerely and cordially yours, W. H. Phalen.

BIRTH ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

Edmund Blackburn of Ebenezer Neighborhood Is Eighty Five Years Old.

The eighty-fifth birthday of Edmund Blackburn was observed in an appropriate way at his country home in the Ebenezer neighborhood Thursday. As large companies are not looked upon with propriety at this time the company yesterday was limited to members of the family and a few friends. As a matter of fact the only ones present in addition to members of the family were Dr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Harker and Rev. and Mrs. J. O. Kirkpatrick.

During the day Mr. Blackburn read a statement giving a brief account of God's providence in the events of his long life. It will be remembered by many of the friends of Mr. Blackburn that he was born in England but came to this country as a young man and for considerably more than half century he has been a resident of the Ebenezer neighborhood. He has long been one of the principal supporters of the Ebenezer church and has been identified with every good movement in his home community and county. One very interesting part of the day's observance was the baptism of Mr. Blackburn's granddaughter, Marjorie Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Blackburn. The impressive service was conducted by Dr. Harker, who thru a long period of years has been an intimate friend of the Blackburn family.

Altogether it was a notable day, one which Mr. and Mrs. Blackburn and their guests thoroughly enjoyed. At the noon hour a bountiful roast goose dinner was served. The dessert was plum pudding and as one of the company said afterward, it was that kind that only these old English families know how to make. Mr. Blackburn tho so far advanced in years, is still a man of remarkable physical and mental vigor and on each recurring birthday anniversary his strength is both a source of gratification and a surprise to his friends.

THE PARK BOARD

The park board met last evening with all members present. All properly approved bills were ordered paid.

The president reported that he had applied to the state university for the services of a landscape gardener at Nicholas park and had not yet received a reply. A request was heard from some persons interested in golf for the removal of some trees near the railroad bridge as they were in the way of players; no action.

Mrs. Wehl reported progress in the matter of investigation into the prices and varieties of tulips and was authorized to order five thousand bulbs the cost probably being about $14.00 a thousand.

The superintendent and assistant are removing the leaves from Duncan park and are making good progress though it is slow work as the leaves are matted in the grass.

One hundred peonies have been planted in suitable places. The Maltese cross and five point star flowers to be ordered leveled and sodded and a long, narrow flower bed prepared along the drive north of the pavilion.

Some of the beds which have been planted with cannas are to have tulips and other flowers hereafter and the disposition of some of the largest beds was left open for the present.

The matter of making permanent roadways in the park was discussed. It was felt that it would be fine to excavate and fill with broken stone and cinders on them in the winter. Meanwhile posts will be erected at the entrances to the park and vehicles excluded when the ground is soft as people seem to have no judgment or thought as to the way they treat the driveways.

The matter of reclaiming the space of ground immediately south of the small concrete bridge over the east lagoon was discussed. The golf people asked for a six foot ditch through it so that it would drain and make the land solid. The matter had been investigated and it was deemed better to place the laterally in several places, run a tile around the bridge deep enough as the foundation of the bridge is too high to admit of perfect drainage. This it was deemed sufficient to reclaim the land south of this bridge and cause it to produce blue grass like the rest of the park. It was not considered practicable to do anything toward reclaiming the land south of the lagoon bridge.

A number of the South Carolina poplars will be removed and maples or some native trees placed instead of them.

fiction was the cause, with which she had been attacked on previous occasions. Her husband was one of the leading agriculturists of Greene county, he dying about fourteen years ago. Her maiden name was Panky and she was born and spent her entire life in this community. Their Apple Creek Prairie farm was one of the most valuable in the county. Since the death of her husband she has resided in town. Funeral services will be held at the home at 2 o'clock Friday, and the interment will be in the White Hall cemetery.

Wm. G. Evans, who has been farming at Fairfield, Ill., for the past year, is in town for a few days. He is preparing to return to California. He went west some eight years ago and followed his profession of master kiln burner at various points until a year ago.

Rev. John A. Simpson has received a call to the pastorate of the First Baptist church at Dixon, Ill., and is considering the matter of leaving the pulpit of the First Baptist church here. He will hold services next Sunday for the first time since lifting the quarantine, he being a week behind the other churches on account of illness in his family, and some announcement will probably be made then as to his plans.

Two airplanes following the Burlington railroad passed north at 9 o'clock this morning, but they were too high to ascertain any information. However, their passing attracted much attention. The lifting of the influenza quarantine a week ago today has produced no bad results. The Princess theatre reopened last Friday night, and on last Sunday all the churches resumed services, excepting the First Baptist church, deferred on account of illness in the pastor's family. The public schools reopened on Monday, and the practical disappearance of influenza has shown no signs of returning, although the health authorities are constantly on the alert on account of the epidemic still being quite severe in neighboring towns. The Victory celebration of last Monday was probably the greatest demonstration ever pulled off in White Hall, beginning in the early morning with the announcement of the news by your correspondent and continuing incessantly until late at night with factory whistles, firearms, backfiring automobiles and all sorts of lesser contrivances. There was a parade of school children, citizens and automobiles in the afternoon, followed by speaking in Whiteside Park. It was the greatest and most continuous celebration held in this section of the state.

IN LOVING REMEMBRANCE OF JOHN LEWIS

Not gone from memory,
Not gone from love,
But gone to a fatherly home above.

And while you rest in peaceful sleep,
Your memory we shall always keep.

The depth of our sorrow we cannot tell,
At the loss of our dear friend we loved so well.

Day by day we sadly miss you,
They may think the wound is healed.

But they little know the grief,
That within our hearts concealed.

You shall never be forgotten,
Never from our memory fade.

Our loving hearts will always linger,
Around the grave where you are laid.

Sad and painful was our parting,
But we hope we'll meet some day.

The evening shades had vanished,
The night was calm and still.

God sent his blessed angels
To do his holy will.

Where the sunbeams loved to linger,
And the raindrops gently fall.

He's sleeping there so peacefully,
Waiting for us all.

A Friend,
Ernest Nunes.

Health

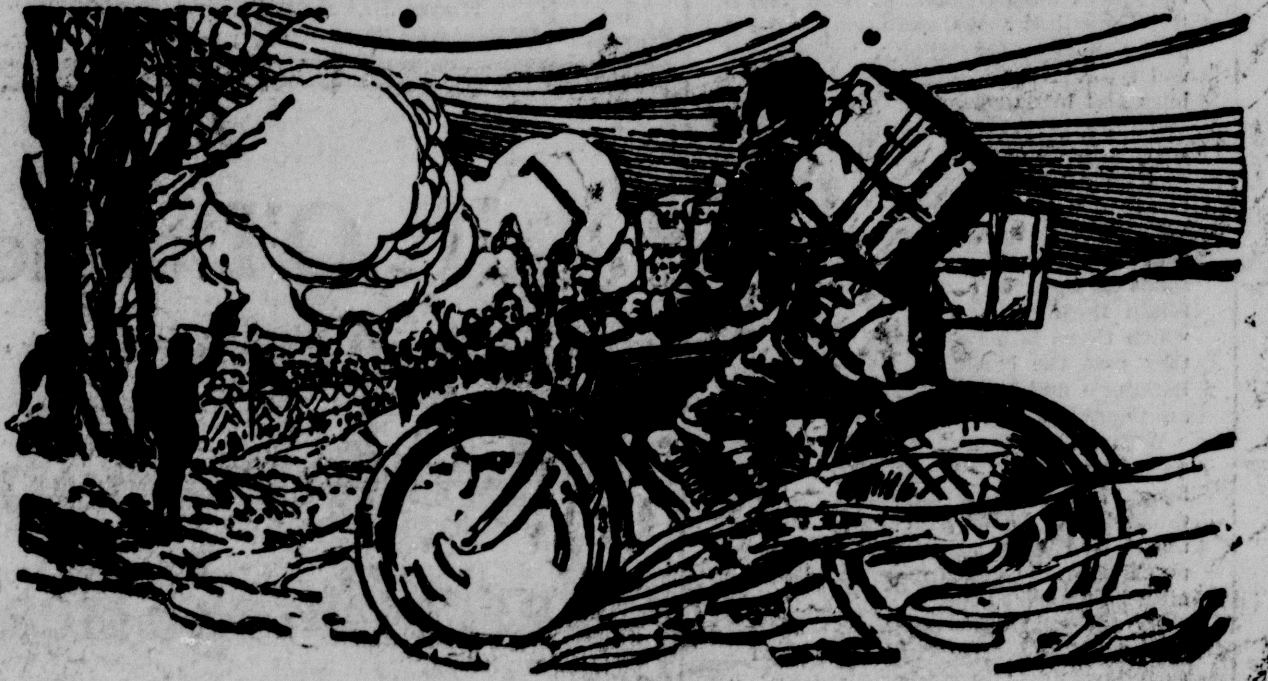

THE MAN WHO SUSPECTS that he has kidney trouble and neglects to take measures promptly for his relief is taking a dangerously unwise risk. If the kidneys are not properly performing their function of purifying the blood stream, waste products and poisonous acids remain in the system and cause nervousness, rheumatic pains, backache, languidness, sore muscles, swollen joints, stiffness, puffiness under eyes and other weakening symptoms.

Did one of these 200 letters come to you?

A DUSTY courier slid off his motor-cycle at the big double hut in a French town and tramped up to the canteen.

"Got a note for the secretary from my commanding officer," he said. He handed a piece of paper across the counter to a smiling middle-aged man.

This is the note the Secretary read:

We landed here three days ago—miles from anywhere. Can you send us some supplies, especially writing paper? This is the first chance the boys have had to write home and we have no paper to give them.

The older man looked up and grinned.

"Got you away off in the woods, have they?"

"I'll say they have!"

"Can you carry anything?"

"All you'll give me!"

From the shelves the secretary took big packages of paper and envelopes.

"Too much?" He asked.

"It will be gone ten minutes after I get back!" said the boy.

"Tonight," the secretary went on, "I'll drive out a truck with more supplies and a man to stay with you. And tell the boys that if their letters are finished, I'll bring them back with me tonight, and get them into the mails."

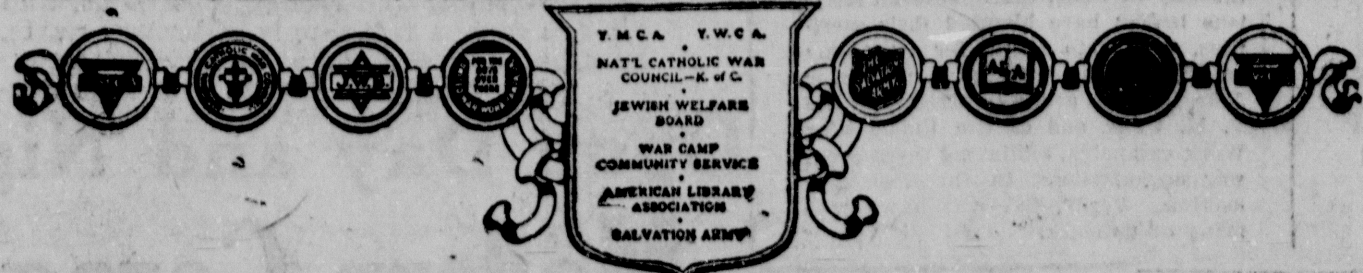

An hour later that motor-cyclist whizzed into camp, loaded down with writing paper, and in ten minutes letters were being written to 200 American homes.

The United War Work organizations know what letters mean to American soldiers. They know that fighters want to get letters and want to write letters.

So in every hut and on every ship your boys find writing paper, envelopes, ink, pens and pencils, and tables where they can get off by themselves and tell the folks back home how things are going.

Millions of sheets are given away free every week to American boys overseas. That is why the letters you get from your boy are written on the stationery of one of these organizations. It is one of the plans to bridge the Atlantic. Help keep the letters coming! Your dollars will supply a whole Company for several days. Dig deep today; help to bind together France and here.

Getting Down to Facts

There are some men in this town who used to pay tailors a lot of extra money to make their clothes; they thought they were hard to fit. Along came the war, and a good many of these men looked around for a way to save; they wanted to have more money to invest in Liberty Bonds. They turned to fine ready made clothes like we're offering—

Hart Schaffner & Marx Clothes

Well, here's what has happened; they've found that they can be fitted perfectly in ready made clothes; that they get the finest all wool fabrics that are woven; and best tailoring and style. And they save some money for themselves too.

There's a lesson in this experience for others who want to save; and we'll be glad to do our part any day; we'll show any man that he can be fitted in ready clothes and we'll show him a saving in the bargain.

Chiropractors Specialize On The Spine

The spine is the Chiropractor's special study. Modern research has discovered the importance of the spinal column as a health factor. The spine controls the supply of health energy passing from the brain to individual tissue cells in every part of the body.

The spinal cord begins at the brain and proceeds down through the spinal column, supplying the nerve fibres through its various openings. If this cord be severed paralysis follows in every part of the body below that point.

If there is pressure due to faulty alignment of the vertebrae, suffering and disease at some particular point is certain to follow.

Scientific adjustment allows nature to do her proper work and the sense of disease and discomfort disappears.

Rheumatism, Neuritis, Lumbago, Headache, Constipation, Bilious, Stomach and Kidney Troubles, are among those readily adjusted by the skilled Chiropractor.

DRIVE IS PROOF OF UNITED POWER

There is one task and only one for the war relief organizations to perform at the battle front. It is the task of minimizing in every way possible the hardships and sufferings that inevitably befall combatants in these hideous wars. To such a task it is the bounden and solemn duty of all right-thinking and loyal persons, able to do the things that are necessary for the alleviation of war's woes, to dedicate their hearts, their hands, their heads—and their lives. If they cannot go that far, they should never enter upon war-relief work, and if they cannot organize themselves for the undertaking in a mental sense, they will never be fit for it in a physical sense.

All personal and private leanings, whether the same pertain to the church, politics, social ethics or the imaginary lines of caste, should be swept aside in the crisis of war, and the guiding thought should be—service! Common sense and practicability are as essential to the right sort of relief work behind the lines, as bullets and bayonets are in the first line of contact with the enemy. War relief that is to command the respect and confidence of armies, cannot be a camouflaged. It must be rooted in a genuine determination to help, without giving hindrance. It can best be done by the practical organizations, qualifying under the rules of common sense, as a unified whole. If it was good for the allies to weld their giant armies and navies into one vast unit, and place the same under one control, it is good for the war relief organizations to adopt the same policy—for in unity, indeed, there is strength!

All Must Help, Says "Eva" Booth.

Commander Evangeline C. Booth of the Salvation Army.

I do not mean by this that any organization, or particular creed or denomination should sink its individuality as in a great melting pot for such unified service, for that but weakens the definite anchor lines which in some instances, have taken hundreds of years to fashion and weld into shape. Such a course would be a mistaken one. But I do mean that there should be a concert of action; a union of spirit and intent; a co-ordination in plans for services; and in consequence, a more highly intelligent effort to reach the point of saturation in the work to be done. Such a point can never be reached—will never be reached; for the task is too great. But that very fact proves, to my mind, that the effort should be directed toward such a goal.

When the armies of the allies were placed under General Foch, and the strategy of war was left, so far as the allies were concerned, to a single war council, it was not found necessary to erase the marks of identity from any unit. French soldiers remained just as French as ever they had been. The British Tommies are still their old selves. The Americans, assuredly, forfeited none of their individuality as the most marvelous fighting machine, put together as if over night, in the history of mankind. Yet, they became of a sudden, cogs in a vast machine. They toiled and struggled for a common purpose. And when General Foch finally was clothed with the authority and power which enabled him to direct the forces of righteousness, each contingent in its place and without duplication or confusion, that instant, Germany was beaten! What has followed constitute the details of humbling the world's history—to overcome the greatest monster of evil that has ever reared its head. We seven will do the job, mothers and fathers! Trust us! Help us! We are seven—we are one!

So with war relief. Individually must not be sacrificed, for that is the wellspring from which proceeds the pure and sustaining waters that, ever refreshing to the varying elements rush on to form the great and irresistible river of succor and rescue. We must preserve our sacred traditions and encourage and expand all those things which brought us down the pages of history to be the forces for good that we are today. We must not confound our sources of origin. We must not do a thing which spells "bigotry" or "intolerance" while still never apart in our righteousness, we depending upon the lasting foundation rock of "liberty" and "equal rights," must think as one, strike as one, suffer as one, and rejoice as one—if we are going to be worth anything at all to the soldier and to the sailor in his extremity!

President Wilson, early in the war, pleaded for, tolled for, contended for—co-ordination. He knew it meant increased efficiency. He did not encourage one ambitious element to swallow up or obliterate another and a lesser element, just to make a unit. He insisted that each organized force locate itself in the vast machine of a country's weal, to gear in—and to operate. Such a machine should require no lubrication beyond the liberal application of brain power. Such a machine should be incapable of waste motion, useless pretense, vain assumptions, or a spirit of competition and rivalry, and should smoothly grind out its gist, or, failing to do so, it should forthwith be sent to the scrap heap of mistaken ideals and good intentions!

I think it perfectly marvelous that the glorious Catholic church which, since the dawn of civilization has been such a potent influence for good, should, without standing on ceremony or losing any time over red tape, gear in with swift precision and open heart and hand, with the equally beloved Protestant church which was eager as well to do its full share for humanity.

Then the Jews, with their inspiring history and beautiful faith, coming into the mesh with both these tremendous forces for uplift—constitute a page in history of man that will be radiant evermore!

The Salvation Army is of all of them—and yet is of none of them. Without creed and wholly nonsectarian, it was entirely natural for the organization I have the honor to command in the United States, and which, with its millions of officers and members is deep-rooted in 61 countries on this earth, to fit into place and begin, in its own sphere, to do its humble part.

I am thankful to have been permitted to live in an era that could witness this unselfish and sensible amalgamation of all sects and creeds and religious and interests, with every fact turned toward God and the light, forgetful of self, or ambition, or preferences, of lines of prejudices and of the hateful misunderstandings of history!

Thus unified, the seven recognized war relief bodies can do their work with a seven-fold precision, effectiveness and success. We have no right in this matter to consider the interests of anyone but the fighter. If we are not to serve him, and serve him intelligently and with practical expediency, then we have no excuse for injecting ourselves into a war situation at all.

There is more to be done at the front, when it comes to helping our troops to win the war, than we can ever do. We owe it to the mothers and fathers of America to cast aside and behind us all thought of divisional lines; of imaginary boundaries and barriers of ambition and of prejudice. It behooves us to dig right in and do the things that will best serve the fighters, all within military regulations and upon a common-sense basis; and to stay there, toiling and suffering with the troops, until the end. Nobody should get any credit—which means that everybody should get it. It is one cause, one war, one issue—and there must be one result. To that end, there can be but one system of war relief, if we are to reason like patriots, and go in to see it through like Trojans and Spartans!

The Salvation Army is in this situation because it has been fighting evil since the day the organization was founded, nearly sixty years ago. It is in it because its duty calls it wherever there is a human suffering to relieve. It has furnished now over 100,000 actual fighters for the allies in the trenches, and has but a small force back of the red line which marks the shifting edges of contact—1,200 uniformed workers. But each and all will be proud to lay down their lives if that is necessary—which is, as we see it, the spirit of service!

This is the spirit of the seven great war relief organizations our president has commissioned to do this big thing—the spirit to stick alongside of the boys sent to do the battling, and help them materially and spiritually to withstand the greatest ordeal in the world's history—to overcome the greatest monster of evil that has ever reared its head. We seven will do the job, mothers and fathers! Trust us! Help us! We are seven—we are one!

Drop "Smiles" From Airplane.

When War Camp Community service people in Fort Worth recently found it necessary to move into roomier quarters, the men in the three nearby aviation fields knew all about it, but dodgers were printed for the benefit of new soldiers arriving in Camp Bowie who might otherwise fail to connect up with the people who are there to "Keep Them Smiling." A novel method of calling attention to these was devised by having them dropped from an airplane flying low over the camp.

"I don't know whether our little stunt is unique," the local representative reported, "but I do know that it made a big hit with the recruits some of whom had never seen a flying machine before."

DOUGHBOYS HUNGRY FOR GOOD READING

American Library Association Supplies Soldiers With Books.

One might suppose on the impulse of the moment, if an answer was given without thought, that the men in the ranks read only entertaining books, books that will amuse and vary the hard work of camp life, or the danger of the trenches.

The American Library association, however, now is prepared to answer this question with the intelligence that comes from supplying the men daily with reading matter. There is as much diversity in the books read by soldiers as by men outside the camp and, possibly more.

The greatest demand is for books on military tactics. Then follow all sorts of requests for other technical books, as, for instance, in one camp in one day came requests for books on coffee cultivation, woolens, refrigeration, cold storage, transportation of food material, medical books, sanitation and the public health, psychology, shorthand and typewriting, shipbuilding, automobiles and business letter writing.

Fiction is popular, with the books written by Zane Gray in the lead. Part of Gray's popularity in the camps is due to the fact that there are so many Western men in camp who know the country he describes perfectly. Thousands of the soldiers, and even officers, retain their love for boys' books, of which there is a shortage. They say they rest the brain, and so Henry's, Barbour's and Tomlinson's boy stories are popular.

With all this diversity of tastes it is not an easy matter to supply the millions of men with the reading they demand, and so the American Library association must meet this need by purchasing the educational and technical books asked for.

To date the work of the American Library War service can be summed up as follows:

Forty-one library buildings in operation.

Forty-three large camp libraries established.

One hundred and forty-three hospitals and Red Cross homes supplied.

Two hundred and forty-three libraries maintained in service.

Three hundred and fifteen military camps and posts equipped with books.

Three hundred and fifty points overseas supplied with books.

Four hundred and six naval and marine stations supplied with libraries.

One thousand, five hundred and forty-seven branches and stations located in recreation huts, barracks and mess halls.

Six hundred thousand books purchased, largely technical.

One million, thirty thousand, four hundred and fifty-eight books shipped overseas.

Three million, one hundred eleven thousand, five hundred and ten gift books placed in service.

Five million magazines distributed.

The work of the American Library association, meeting certain needs of the men as it does, is only a part of the great work being done by the seven welfare organizations of the United War campaign, the Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Jewish Welfare board, War Camp Community service, American Library association and the Salvation Army. And that these organizations may carry on their work of mercy and service they are asking that the people of this country help them with $170,000,000, a small matter when placed beside the helplessness, both in this country and overseas of the seven branches of the great candlestick of United War Work.

Cigarettes Fall From Skies.

Paris, Oct. 21.—(By Mail).—What manna was to the Israelites in the desert, so cigarettes, falling out of the sky were to Pershing's brave doughboys in the wiping out of the St. Mihiel salient. The Knights of Columbus motor transport service had just been put in operation, and one of the first loads of supplies rushed to the front in these trucks contained thousands of cigarettes. But the trucks could not follow the fast-rushing Americans in their drive, so the aviators were appealed to by the K. of C. secretaries to get their smokes to the boys.

Wounded men in the hospitals here first told the story of how, while the American troops were fighting, American aviators in American-made airplanes hovered over them and from the clouds showered them with 20,000 packages of cigarettes, each monogrammed, "Compliments of the Knights of Columbus." This was the first time in modern warfare that a fighting army had been supplied with smokes during the heat of battle.

"Those smokes came from the heavens, and they were truly heavenly," one wounded Yank declared.

Great Leaders Think Alike.

"This is no time for religious people to be hating one another for the love of God," said a noted Roman Catholic army chaplain not long since.

"Nothing in my five visits to the battlefield has impressed me more than the way in which the men of all religious bodies have blended their sacrifices, even unto death, for a supreme cause," is the utterance of Doctor John R. Mott, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. and of the United War Work campaign, affiliating seven great war organizations, in the same connection. Verily, the war has taught many of us much.

WITH THE COLORS

FROM CORP. RUSSELL H. OGLE

Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Ogle have received the following letter from their son, Corporal Russell H. Ogle, now "somewhere in France":

On Active Service with the A. E. F., Oct. 10, 1918. Mrs. Hattie A. Ogle.

Flea Skin Diseases

It is unnecessary for you to suffer with eczema, blotches, ringworm, rashes and similar skin trouble. A little Zemo, obtained at any drug store for 35c, or $1.00 for extra large bottle, and promptly applied will usually give instant relief from itching eruptions. It cleanses and soothes the skin and heals quickly and effectively most skin diseases.

Zemo is a wonderful, penetrating, disappearing liquid and is soothing to the most delicate skin. It is not greasy, is easily applied and costs little. Get it today and save all further distress. The L. W. Rose Co., Cleveland, O.

My Dear Mother:

I will write you a letter to ease your anxious mind. I am O. K. and feeling fine "somewhere in France." We received our first mail Oct. 8th. I had two letters from you and five from Hazel. Oh my, but they all did look good, being our first news since we left the U. S. A. This is the first writing paper that I have been able to get, so that is why you folks have never heard from me. Well, mama, I sure did have some "trip—some "boat ride" across the "ocean blue." I became very sea sick, but it did not last long and I felt good when I got over it. I saw some sights. Believe me, I sure enjoyed my trip. I didn't enjoy it when I bade you my last good by in old Indiana at Ft. Harrison. I wish I could have seen Alma and Lloyd before I left Indiana but there was no chance.

I certainly wish Lloyd and Sox could have been with us. We sure could have some good times together now. Glenn and I am together, with three boys from Illinois, three from Kentucky and believe me we sure have a good time at night in our tents. When we get together (we live in tents now), we smoke, play cards, play dominoes and act the fool in general. Don't you think I am gambling for I am not. (Don't know how).

Well, how is everybody in the Bend? I would sure like to see all and tell them about the sights we have seen and our experiences. Have any other boys around there gone yet? It seems strange to see so many boys over here and never meet any one you are acquainted with. The only time "Dock" and I get lonesome is on Saturday night. Ha, ha. I guess you folks are wondering what I am doing over here. We are working on the railroad. That is what the engineer companies have to do and I like it fine. Makes me think of the days I was down in Texas. (Oh my blamed old pipe keeps going out; keeps me busy lighting it.) How is Uncle Melvin and Aunt Stella? Are they working as hard as ever? I would love to have some of those good straw berries like the ones I had there last summer. They sure were fine. Tell them the first time I get a good chance I will bring my seven boys over for a Sunday dinner. I think I have seven of the finest boys in the whole Co. L. I don't mind being corporal over these boys.

Say I found a pair of Dutch (women's) slippers. I would like to send them home, with some other trinkets, if I ever get a chance, but don't know what I can do with them. Well, how much did papa get for his wheat and his hogs? I do hope the crops are good back there for they do not raise much of any thing here—nothing like they do in the U. S. A.

I must close for this time and will write real soon again. Tell everybody I am feeling fine and with love to all, I will close.

From your soldier boy,
Corporal Russell H. Ogle.

From Thomas Robson

Mrs. James Hough of Murrayville is in receipt of the following letter from her brother, Thomas Robson, with the American Expeditionary Forces in France:

Near Bordeaux, France,
Oct. 11, 1918.

Dear Sister:
Received your letter yesterday and was glad to hear from you. How are you, Jim and Russell? I am well and able to eat three large meals a day.

I have seen Oral Henry and several other fellows from back home. I saw Scheferkopf from Alexander, Revis, Seymour and Clarke from Jacksonville and Garner from Good House, I don't suppose you know any of them except Henry.

Do you know Oxley's address? As I am not at the front to take in the "big show," and unable to tell you what I am doing down here, I am unable to write you a very interesting letter. It has been hot and dry all summer, but the last six weeks it has been raining almost every day and is very cold and frosty. More rain can fall here in one hour than it can back home all day. A heavy rain is just over and water is standing shoe top deep in most places.

All things considered France isn't such a place as some might imagine after 4 years of warfare. Food seems to be scarce with them, but a fellow can go in a restaurant and get a good meal for 7 Francs (about $1.25) and is well satisfied with what he gets.

They have some very pretty towns, but the country places do not look as good as they are. No one to take care of them except the women and old men. All the young fellows over 18 years are in the army or in training. They have women street car conductors. The people are very backward in everything compared with the U. S. The town people think that they have a right to walk out in the middle of the street and there are quite a few accidents as one would imagine. They don't seem to know or care at least what the side walks are for. They are very good to us and they realize what Uncle Sam is doing for them.

The French boys like the American soldiers fine and it is a common thing to see one or two kids about 8 or 10 years old with every regiment wearing U. S. uniforms.

Most of the people use small mules about the size of a large shepherd dog to a two wheel cart.

TO AVOID AND RELIEVE INFLUENZA

By Dr. Franklin Duane
Many people have been frightened by what they have read or heard of influenza. The more you fear the disease, the surer you are to get it. Go right about your business and forget it. The disease is spread principally by contact thru sneezing, coughing or spitting, many health authorities have advised that everyone wear a gauze, which is daily washed and saturated with a one to five hundred solution of zinc sulphate in water, and then dried before wearing over the nose and mouth. You should avoid crowded common drinking cups and public towels. Keep your strength up by taking lots of exercise in the open air and plenty of nourishing food.

If you have any of such symptoms as chilliness, nasal obstructions, flushed face, headache, feverishness, restlessness, weakness, or irritating cough, give up work at once and go to bed. This will save your strength to help overcome the disease. Put your feet in hot water for fifteen minutes. Thoroughly loosen the bowels with some such mild and non-irritating physic as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. Drink principally of hot lemonade and then cover up with plenty of clothes in bed so as to get a good sweat. When sweating is free and the fever reduced take a dose of two Anuric Tablets every four hours, followed by drinking at least a glass or two of hot water. Anuric Tablets help quickly to relieve the soreness of the muscles and bones from which most patients complain and help the kidneys flush out the poisons.

To relieve nasal obstructions and excessive discharge from the nose, probably nothing is better than such a mild, soothing, antiseptic wash as Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It will give great relief. Employed as a gargle, in same strength as made up for use in the nose, and as hot as can be borne, it quickly arrests soreness and dryness in the throat.

Influenza weakens the patient's resistance to disease, so that there is danger of bronchitis and pneumonia developing. To combat this tendency and fortify the patient's strength insist that he keep in bed at least two days. Probably nothing will at this stage hasten the recovery and strengthen the patient more than an iron tonic tablet called "Ironite" or that well known herbal tonic, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been used by thousands in the past two generations.

I have seen a few fine horses, but not many.

There are some of the prettiest churches in Bordeaux that a fellow ever saw. It makes one wonder how they ever were built in such shapes. It is a custom among the French people to eat nothing while on the streets and they laugh at us when we go down the street eating.

I can understand a little of what they say and guess at the rest.

As it is almost dinner time, will close. Answer soon.

Your brother,
Pvt. Thomas H. Robson.

Eddie Graubner Writes.

Camp Merritt, N. J., Saturday, Nov. 9, 1918.

Hello Everybody—
Better come out to camp and have dinner with me tomorrow. I am going to prepare 150 pounds of chickens with dressing, gravy, mashed potatoes, canned corn, bread, coffee and probably oranges and pineapples. I have not fully decided whether to give them the fruit for dinner or supper. What do you think about me being an acting mess sergeant? I spend between $100 and $150 every day; order what I want, make up my own bill of fare have your own captain, E. P.'s under me on each shift. My main duties are to see that everything is cooked properly, see that nothing is stolen, write my bill of fares so as to come out about even with the money the government allows for each man ($4.50). I am now feeding 230 men so you see I spend about $103.75 each day. Each day I order a quarter of beef, 840 lbs. potatoes, 228 lbs. bread and what ever other commodities I may need for the day. At that I am short of it in the kitchen—carry about $400 of stock in the kitchen all the time. In addition to this I keep the stock shed on which I keep track of the amount of stock on hand, the number of men fed each day, the allowance for each day, the cost and the saving or loss; and at a glance I can tell just how many cans of corn, etc. I have on hand, how many men I have fed to any given date, what it has cost me, how much I have bought, just what each individual meal costs, and what my savings or loss is at any time. So for this month I have fed 2,190 men, and it has cost me $983.69.

During the last week I have had beef nearly every day. I know of fried roast, Spanish stew, Irish stew, pot pie, hamburger, boiled corned hash, beef loaf, and steak and onions.

For supper tonight I made some corn-bread using 20 lbs. corn meal, 10 lbs. wheat flour, 30 oz. baking powder, 4 lbs. lard, salt and sugar and 36 eggs and it was very good.

Last Thursday when the rumor of peace was circulated we could hear the whistles of New York city for hours, of course the boys at camp cheered when they heard the news, but nothing like a person would expect when it is remembered that they would be the ones most vitally effected by such an occurrence, but we have received such rumors so frequent that we learn to believe nothing until we see it. Should peace be declared I hardly believe we cooks in Camp Merritt would be discharged until all the fellows return from France, as it will be just as important for us to be here then as it is now, and according to the New York World it will take two years to get all the boys back to the U. S. A., so it probably will be a few years before I return to Jacksonville.

Your son,
E. E. Graubner.

AGED WOOD CUTTERS

A few weeks ago the board of education announced that the damaged trees on the high school lot would be given to any one who would take them away and the offer was accepted and aged wood cutters are busily engaged in the business. W. T. Spire, 77, and Jared Seymour, 86. These old gentlemen are not driven to work by necessity by any means but prefer to do something useful to doing nothing and so make some fine additions to their fuel heap. One of them is left handed which sometimes comes in handy and they are an interesting pair.

ONE MAN OPERATES BOTH TRACTOR AND IMPLEMENT

Electrically Governed 18 Horse Power with the New

MOLINE
UNIVERSAL TRACTOR
It Solves The Farm Help Problem

The perfected 4-cylinder overhead-valve engine of the new Moline-Universal Tractor, Model D, develops 18-horsepower on the belt, pulling a 24-inch grain separator or 16-inch ensilage cutter, with a belt speed of between 2400 and 3000 feet a minute.

Variations in load do not affect the engine speed of the Moline-Universal in the slightest, due to an electrical governor that instantly regulates the throttle to compensate for the slightest change in load. Electrically, the most sensitive, quickest acting force known to man, holds the engine of the Moline-Universal under control, and makes it run steadily under all conditions.

The pulley on the Moline-Universal Tractor is located directly in front of the engine, making it easy to change from one operation to another. Running a silo filler, corn shredder, feed grinder, wood saw, clover huller, hay press, water pump or electric lighting plant are only a few of the many uses to which the Moline-Universal can be put.

Unusual economy is shown by the Moline-Universal Tractor, because of the perfected overhead-valve construction of the engine, with a small bore and long stroke, and valves that measure half the diameter of the combustion chamber. A specially designed intake manifold heats and dries the gas to a perfect condition for burning. These features in combination extract every ounce of energy from the gasoline, producing power at remarkably low cost.

The construction of the Moline-Universal engine is such that it will stand up without faltering under the hardest test to which it can be subjected. Extra large bearings, lubrication under 35 pounds pressure, alloy steels and careful machining give it the stamina to stand up for long runs under full load.

The real superiority of the Moline-Universal Tractor, however, lies in field work. Here it enables one man to perform every field operation, including planting, harvesting and cultivating. Its universal adaptability practically does away with horses and also solves the farm help problem.

It is easily the most useful and greatest labor saving device ever invented for the farm.

With Peace Comes Plenty

This means plenty of work for you and us. Plenty of figuring as we must increase our yield per acre of all grain to feed the world. Saving grain by increasing its feeding value is next to raising more. Proper attention to the amount of pure water at proper temperature is saving grain. Labor saving machines also do both, save feed and increase the yield. Are you willing to do your part? This is the time to figure.
